Mortgage Brain partners with Uinsure

Mortgage Brain, the most widely used and preferred mortgage technology solutions provider, has announced a partnership with leading general insurance provider, Uinsure, to give intermediaries instant access to its B&C and MPPI products.

As part of the agreement, intermediaries using Mortgage Brain's sourcing systems and the Key, its market leading CRM, point-of-sale and compliance solution, can now obtain, review and process full product quotes from Uinsure's extensive product range as part of the whole mortgage advice and sales process.

Through seamless systems integration, intermediaries will now be able to access a number of leading insurance providers for Buildings & Contents, MPPI and non mortgage related ASU policies for their clients and benefit from generous commission levels and renewal rates.

Mark Lofthouse, CEO of Mortgage Brain, comments, "The introduction of this enhanced service capability is just one of many planned for our suite of market leading technology solutions over the coming months, which are all designed to help meet the changing needs of intermediaries and the UK mortgage market.

"The ability to quickly and efficiently source and submit insurance quotes as part of the mortgage advice and sales process will prove to be a big hit with our customers and we're delighted to be working with an innovative company like Uinsure to offer this service."

Simon Taylor, CEO at Uinsure, adds, "We're delighted to have integrated our system and insurance schemes with Mortgage Brain and the Key. Mortgage Brain's technology and position in the market is second to none and its excellent track record in the mortgage industry was a key influence on our decision to partner with them."
