Growth prompts £2.5 million office expansion for Mortgage Brain

UK, APRIL 30, 2018: Continued growth and expansion at leading fintech company, Mortgage Brain, has seen the completion of a £2.5 million re-development of its Croydon-based office.

Mortgage Brain hired 15 new members of staff during 2017 to support business growth, and with more joining in 2018, the new revamped office in St James's Road, Croydon, will provide room for further expansion over the next few years.

The £2.5 million investment has enabled Mortgage Brain to enhance its workspace across four floors to create an impressive and inspiring working environment for its product development, testing, customer service and new product display and sales teams.

The mortgage technology expert now has a total headcount of 123 across its offices in Croydon, London and Bromsgrove, Worcestershire.

Mark Lofthouse, CEO of Mortgage Brain, comments, "The UK mortgage market continues to evolve and grow and our suite of cutting edge technology solutions are perfectly positioned to support mortgage advisers, lenders and consumers now and well into the future.

"Our continuous product development strategy means that we are making more capabilities available within our product suites as well as developing new, associated products and services and our investment in our people and their working environment is central to this.
